IGNITE WITHIN WHO YOU WERE MEANT TO BE

DAY 28: WHAT WILL YOU FIGHT FOR?

“You. Stand up,” Lucas calls out to Josiah. “Who are you?” Josiah slowly stands; he looks from his sister to Lucas and back again. “Answer me,” Lucas demands. Josiah swallows hard and clears his throat. His head is throbbing, and he feels dizzy again. He opens his mouth to speak when he hears a loud roar. Lucas looks up at the sky in fear. He pushes Josiah to the ground. Senora runs to his side and hugs him. “We cannot lose them now. Stand your ground, men.”

“Stay strong, Jo,” Senora says. “The Lord is my strength, whom shall I fear.” He hears the growl again. “Though I walk through the shadow of death, I will fear no evil. Your rod and Your staff, they comfort me,” Josiah hears Senora say. He sees what looks like the Red Dragon land between Senora and the two quads. Then all goes black again. He can hear some screaming and some gun fire. He feels Senora holding him close. A shower of dust flies over him, and the quads drive circles around them. The air he breathes in is so hot, it almost burns his nostrils. He coughs, but he’s having trouble opening his eyes. “Hold on, Jo. Be strong. You must find the courage and trust.” He hears the Red Dragon growl again, and he feels Senora shaking him. “Jo, Jo. Open your eyes. Find your strength.” Senora’s almost screaming at him.

Josiah comes to only briefly, and he sees the Red Dragon jumping back and forth, growling loudly. He sees Senora standing with what looks like fire in her eyes. “With man, this is impossible, but with God, all things are possible.” He faints again. Josiah can feel heat upon his face and sweat trickle down his forehead.

He manages to open one eye to see the Red Dragon blowing fire all around them. He hears more gunshots and Lucas barking out orders for everyone to stand firm. Senora talks in a confident and strong voice, one that he has never heard from his sister before. “He gives strength to the weak and power to the powerless,” she says. Josiah can see Lucas try to approach him when he sees what looks like the Red Dragon’s tail swings and knock Lucas off balance.

Senora raises her hand as the Red Dragon charges at the men on the quads. Josiah feels dizzy as his vision blurs again. The smoke from the surrounding fire makes his throat burn and his eyes sting..... Josiah looks at his sister. “I remember you standing and saying God’s words. You do have power within. I’ve seen it.

We all hold an inner strength within us. When you believe in the truths of God and open your mind and heart to Him, you can reveal your gifts and strength to you. Listen and believe first in God and then in yourself.

We have talked about refocusing your mind on what you want, mapping out a plan of action of how to get there, trusting God's direction in your life, and listening to understand who you really are. We have talked about what is important to you. What is your dream? Is your dream strong enough to fight for it? Or will you allow the distractions of life to snuff that dream out?

This is something I struggle with. For so long I have tried to please everyone else, even to the point of giving up on my dreams if it meant helping someone else pursue theirs. But one thing I have discovered over time is that if my dream is important enough to me, it is worth fighting for. If you learn to fight in the right way, you can move forward and in the process you can still help others along the way.

What are some things you can do today to move in the direction of your dreams?

You matter and are worth fighting for, we have already established this. But I want to take this a step further. Even if your dream is small right or if it seems bigger than you could even think possible, just remember that nothing is impossible with God. I want you to re-right what your dream is. You have grown so much over these past 28 days, I hope you have gained more understanding of what is important to you and that you have great value and worth. Take this time to write out your dream.

Now looking about of day 26's lesson, rewrite your five steps that you wanted to take this week to move towards your dream.

How have you been doing with these steps?

As I have stated before, we need to celebrate every step in our journey of life. So celebrate the steps you have taken throughout this course so far. Just like Kary Oberbrunner says in this following video, follow through and celebrate each step you take. For each step is a small step closer to your dream.

What are some small steps you have done this week?

You have come so far, you are learning that you are stronger than you ever thought possible. I believe in you and your dreams matter. Are you willing to fight for them?

“Finally, be strong in the Lord and in the strength of his might. Put on the whole armour of God, that you may be able to stand against the schemes of the devil. For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the cosmic powers of this present darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly places. Therefore, take up the whole armour of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand firm.”

– Ephesians 6:10-13

With God on your side, you have the strength to stand firm and to find your courage to take your next step forward. You and your dream are worth it, stand firm. If you don't fight for your dream, then who will?

I leave you with one last video to encourage you:
